

Wednesday Story Hour Schedule

July 13th: Antarctica

Come and celebrate the beginning of our story hour season with an ice-cold adventure! Today children will learn about the coldest continent on the planet. Children will then break through the ice to find hidden treasures. This day will be packed full of icy adventures during the hottest time of the year!

July 20th: Australia

Some of the greatest assets found on the "Island Continent" are her animals! From koalas to wombats, many of Australia's animals are favorites worldwide. During this story hour the children will listen to stories and create projects based on the wonderful world of the outback and those who live there. G'day mate!

July 27th: Europe

Today children will journey over the ocean to a continent that was home to some of the world's most famous artists. First, children will learn how the donut was invented on the waters of the Atlantic Ocean, headed for Spain. Next, children will travel through time into the city of Paris, a place where artists roamed the streets. Children will be inspired to create their own masterpieces and work on their own inventions to finish off this day!

August 3rd: Asia

Kon' nichiwa! This week children will listen to stories written about holidays celebrated in China and Russia. Focusing on the continent that is the home to over 60% of the world's total population, children will craft Russian Easter eggs (with paint and Sharpie permanent markers), and make their very own Chinese Dragons to take home!

August 10th: Africa

This week our focus will be on the second largest continent on the planet. Kids will hear all about the special animals (and even become a lion!) and life in the desert. Crafting will be super fun and hopefully wet, when we make our very own rainmakers!

August 17th: North America

Today will be an exciting day! Children's author, Jim Arnosky will share his love for nature with us! He will be joining us to read some of his own works about some of the amazing plants and animals that live right here on our own spectacular continent. Be ready to share your ideas of how you can give back to nature and come with questions for a great author and illustrator!

August 24th: South America

Journey to one of the most magical places on the planet! Junior explorers will roam through the rainforest during story hour today and discover how unique a place it really is! Children will celebrate the end of story hour by learning about many of the plants and animals that live along the amazing Amazon River. It's an Amazon adventure not to be missed!
