

Wednesday Story Hour Schedule

July 12th: Do the Chicken Dance

Come and celebrate the beginning of story hour with a story walk on the adventure trail! Children will listen to stories about the famous Little Red Hen and some of her favorite friends. Then, children will enjoy egg and spoon races, make their own shaky eggs, create some amazing "I Spy" jars and of course do the chicken dance!

July 19th: Earth Day!

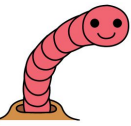

Every Day is Earth Day! Children will listen to stories based on loving and taking care of the Earth. The craft is sure to be a favorite, as children will be creating their very own tiny root-viewing terrariums! We will each plant a sunflower seed and watch them sprout and grow!

July 26th: It's All About Fruit...and the Ice Cream!

How do you make a fruit pie and see the world? We'll find out in one of our favorite books! After listening to stories about some of the amazing fruits, vegetables and dairy products we can find around the world, children will enjoy fresh blueberries from the backyard of Windy Ridge Orchard and learn how to make their own ice cream in a bag!

August 2nd: The Wonderful World of Worms!

This week children will get "hands on" with our wiggly little Earth friends! We will read books about worms and create a fabulous craft based on these dirt dwellers. Children will be able to dig for worms in our worm farm and study their life cycle.

August 9th: The Super Solar System

Calling all astronauts! The countdown is on for a great day of reading books and crafting the morning away! Today's story hour will be filled with aliens, planets, moon rocks, and marshmallows! Make sure you mark your calendars in 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1...Blast off to Windy Ridge Story Hour!

August 16th: Calling All Young Authors!

Today is the day to celebrate all of the amazing young authors in our story hour crowd! Children will get some inspiration for their next story by listening to some fun-filled story writing books. Come ready to laugh with some hilarious poetry titles! Children will enjoy making their own books, designing their own story cubes, creating their own comics, and so much more!

August 23rd: Creatures of the Night

Celebrate the final day of story hour with stories about creatures of the night. The dark isn't always our favorite time, but for some animals it's the only time they like to play! Children will enjoy listening to stories about nocturnal animals and then will get to work making their own shadow puppets. We'll light up the rest of the summer evenings by making some glow in the dark bracelets, necklaces and more!
